REPORT OF THE
TRUSTEES OF THE INGALLS MEMORIAL LIBRARY

For the Year Ending January 1st, 1915.

The trustees of the Ingalls Memorial Library beg leave to submit the following report to the citizens of the town of Rindge:

The unusually large amount of income for the past year, due to the accumulated interest on trust funds and deposits, has made possible some needed repairs on the library building, the concreting of the floor of the cellar, and the laying of a drain to carry off the water, which sometimes accumulated in the cellar.

The usual number of books have been bought; Miss Ware and others have given a number of volumes; and through the kindness of Congressman Stevens, we have received the Year Books of the Agricultural Department for the past ten years, also a large number of reports from the department of state concerning the South American Republics, which, in view of their growing importance to us in their commercial relations, merit the attention of our people.

The report of the librarian gives a satisfactory account of the current circulation for the year, and we wish to acknowledge with thanks the gifts of books and magazines. We are especially grateful for the gift of one case of entomological specimens collected by Mrs. Stephen B. Davol and her children, and we hope that it may grow to be representative of the insects to be found in Rindge.

By some slight changes in the method of distributing books, we hope to enlarge the circulation of the books, so that all sections of the town may have a more extensive and satisfactory use of the library.

In conclusion we recommend the appropriation by the town of the sum of three hundred dollars to be used by us in meeting the expenses of the library for the ensuing year.

GEORGE M. HARMON,
MARY LEE WARE,
HARRIS H. RICE,

Trustees.

January 29th 1915.

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS.

To the School Board of Rindge:

I herewith submit my third annual report, the eleventh annual report of the superintendent of schools in Rindge.

ENROLLMENT.

The enrollment on February 1, 1915, by schools and by grades is as follows:

| SCHOOLS.            | GRADES.  |          |          |          |          |           |           |          |          | TOTAL.    |

| No. 8.....          | 2        | 2        | 2        |          | 2        |           | 4         | 4        |          | 16        |
| Totals,             | 7 | 5 | 6 | 6 | 7 | 10 | 14 | 4 | 3 | 62 |

The above table shows the actual number of children in school at the present time. There has been a gain of two at West Rindge, a gain of four at the Centre, and a loss of eight at East Rindge, as compared with the registration at the corresponding time last year.

NINTH GRADE.

During the school year 1913-14 several students took advantage of the ninth grade work offered by the Rindge schools to prepare themselves more thoroughly for high school. I have talked with a number of the pupils who entered the Murdock school, and in some cases with the parents, and in nearly every instance I am told that they found themselves well prepared to do good high school work. In some cases I find that children who are obliged to leave at the end of the eighth year desire to take up algebra as an extra study. This is an admirable and advanced attitude and I want to encourage such children in their ambitions, provided, of course, that this does not interfere with the regular instruction in the grades.

SELECTION OF TEACHERS.

At a meeting of the school boards of this section held at Peterboro last fall, the present chairman of the board asked a principal of the Normal School where the thirty best graduates of Normal schools went to teach. He replied that they went to Manchester. Now his reply may have been intended as a joke or as a fact. At any rate the answer indicated a tendency which is apparent to all those charged with the selection of teachers. As between a city position and a position in a smaller town, the salaries being equal, the prospective teacher will choose the situation in the larger field in nearly every instance. Now this is not a world of things as they ought to be, but rather a world of things as they are—and if Rindge wants to hire and keep teachers of strong mind, excellent reputation and clear-cut teaching ability it must agree at the outset to compete with the larger cities in salary. And I may add that at least four-fifths of the success of the schools depends on the ability of the teaching force.

STATE AID.

As promised in my last report, I have carefully looked up the matter of state aid for the schools of Rindge and I report as follows: Under the law three factors enter into the apportionment of state funds to schools: First, tax rate for school purposes; second, number of weeks of school offered by the town; third, equalized valuation per pupil of average attendance must be $9,500 or under. Now in cases one and two above cited, the town would be entitled to state aid, for it has raised the amount required by law for state aid and has offered much more than the minimum of thirty weeks of schooling. However, in case three, which is also one of the determining factors, the equalized valuation per pupil of average attendance is higher than $9,500. In other words the town would have to have at least an average attendance of 109 pupils in Rindge and elsewhere to profit under the provision of the law. It now has about 86 pupils. I offer this rather short explanation of a fairly intricate subject to you and to the voters of Rindge that you may have an intimate knowledge of the subject. The voters were asked to raise a trifle more last year, with the expectation of receiving state aid in return, but this extra will be carried over as the result of an economical administration by your board.

MISCELLANEOUS.

I ask that the necessary repairs be made on the West Rindge and Rindge Centre schools as follows:

West Rindge: Repapering; new floor; stove chimney fixed so it will not smoke on windy days; glass should be put-tied.

Rindge Centre: Slate backboard upstairs; ceiling and walls tinted; leaks in roof and over girls' outbuilding fixed.

I also recommend that a few adjustable seats be bought and installed for the smaller children.

I believe that the Rindge schools have had a prosperous year and are pointing in the right direction.

I want to thank those who have helped by word or deed to uplift the schools and put them on a higher plane; among them Mr. Fred H. Todd, who helped to plant trees at Rindge; Mr. J. Henry Locke, who so kindly presented framed pictures of the Civil War to the schools; Rev. D. L. Hilliard, who has helped to keep some of the older children in school; and Rev. George Hickson, who has been accommodating and obliging in matters pertaining to the West Rindge school. I am grateful too for the fine spirit of the teaching force of the town and the helpfulness of the parents, children and school board.

Respectfully submitted,

WILLIAM L. MacDONALD.

Superintendent of Schools.

February 1, 1915.

REPORT OF SUPERVISOR OF MUSIC AND DRAWING.

Mr. William L. MacDonald,
Superintendent of Schools,
Rindge, N. H.

I hereby submit my report of work done in music and drawing in the schools of this town.

During the summer the outlines used last year were revised and made more definite. In general they call for the principles given in a former report.

The second book of the Modern Music Series is in use with the upper grades. This book gives considerable material in three-part work. The lower grades are using book number 1, by Eleanor Smith, and slips for reading.

The United States commissioner of education, P. P. Claxton, says that we put the different subjects in our school curriculum for their practical value and that "next to reading, writing and the ability to count the simplest sums in arithmetic, music is the most practical subject in our schools." In the first place it is one of the most valuable forms of sense training. When we think of the reading of the words of the song, the notes of the music, the tones, the rests, the pauses, no one can doubt that as an instrument for sense training music is unexcelled. It quickens at once the eye, the ear and the vocal organs. In the second place, music is one of the great forms of artistic expression; it contributes a wholesome pleasure and affords an opportunity for the arousing of patriotic emotions.

There are still a few in our schools who are poor on tone work, but extra time has been given them since September and there is considerable improvement.

In drawing, the teachers are provided each month with outlines planning for two lessons a week.

The general plan followed has been nature drawing and painting for September and October; vegetable and fruit painting and printing for November. The Christmas work occupied the time in December, and consisted of painting or constructing such articles as needle cases, penwipers, laundry and telephone lists, cards and calendars. January and February will be devoted to still life. March and early April will be constructive and imitative work, and then begins the spring study of flowers and other spring growths.

In connection with our color work, costumes were designed by the pupils.

During the year I have talked with teachers and supervisors of other cities and towns and I find that the work as planned for the year is similar to work being done in these places, viz., nature work, Thanksgiving and Christmas work, printing, still life, constructive, etc. The other day I visited the schools of a city and large town in Massachusetts and found them following the same general plan. I also had the opportunity of examining whole sets of papers and found that the percentage of good papers here compared very favorably with their lessons.

This year I have asked for some drawing by imitation and for some memory work. These are two features recommended by the superintendent of drawing in New York.

I wish to thank the teachers, superintendent and committee for their co-operation and for the supplies provided.

Respectfully submitted,
A. JEAN BROWN,
Superintendent of Music and Drawing.

REPORT OF MEDICAL INSPECTOR.

To the Superintendent and School Board of Rindge, N. H.:

Ten had never been vaccinated.

Cards were sent to the parents of those found with defective teeth, adenoids or enlarged tonsils.

The good results of medical inspection in the schools will be directly in proportion to the willingness of the parents to co-operate and have the defects which are pointed out to them remedied as early as possible.

No case of any contagious or infectious disease was found in any of the schools.

GEORGE S. EMERSON, M. D.,

Medical Inspector.
